

New bus route services Bay

Coast Transit Authority announces the start of a new bus route for Bay St. Louis. The new route, route 52-Bay St. Louis, was designed with the cooperation of the mayor and other city officials. It will operate on a one-hour frequency Monday through Friday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The route will be run by a new 20-passenger, wheelchair lift-equipped bus which will provide service to major shopping centers, the Valena C. Jones Complex and the Human Services Department.

This new route will operate specifically within Bay St. Louis and will not cross the bay bridge. This will allow residents to complete their shopping and other trips in a more efficient manner. Connections with the Beachcomber Trolley line can be made downtown.

Funding for the purchase and operation of the new service and the trolley already in operation is provided by matching funds from the city and the Federal Transit Administration.

The bus will also pick up passengers in the mornings and afternoons between Court-house Road Station in Gulfport and Bay St. Louis. This allows transportation for workers and students to take advantage of a bus that would ordinarily run empty or out of service until it reached the beginning of its route in Bay St. Louis.

A new telephone number has been installed so that Bay St. Louis and Hancock County residents will no longer have to place a long distance call for bus and trolley information. The new number is 255-8020.

Depot grounds pass water test

BY MARY G. SEILEY

After three rounds of testing, the old depot grounds in Bay St. Louis have passed environmental muster.

Mayor Eddie Favre said Tuesday the results clear the way for City Council to finalize purchase of the property and proceed with restoration plans.

The city has a contract to buy the 1928 depot for some $86,000. With a $580,000 federal grant, the city wants to restore the building and redevelop its grounds as a transportation hub and a civic activity center.

Officials hope the project will spawn other renewal in a 10-block area around the depot on Railroad Avenue.

Before buying the historic structure from CSX, however, the city hired Brown & Mitchell Inc. to assess the five-acre site's environmental health.

The initial $2,000 study turned up enough problems to warrant further testing. The additional testing, at $4,375, found elevated levels of heavy metals in the groundwater.

Officials had the samples retested, but the results were similar. Last week, the city authorized $1,760 for the firm to drill two new testing wells, taking special precautions to make sure the water samples weren't contaminated by sedimentation.

"The results are clear," Favre said of the additional testing completed last week. He said he'll ask City Council to finalize purchase of the property at its next meeting.

Create a colorful butterfly garden

BY AMY PICKICH

Add some color to your garden this year, not only by the plants you choose, but by what those plants will attract.

And growing the many kinds of flowers and host plants needed to attract butterflies is one of the simplest and least time consuming of gardens. In fact, many gardeners have a lot of butterflies without even trying.

With over 149 species in the area a well-planned garden can attract some 30 species at one time.

Some of the ones common to the area to look for include blues, buckeye, cabbage, crescents, fritillaries, monarch, painted ladies, question mark, red admiral, red-spotted purple, skippers, sulphur, swallowtails.

An open lawn has little to offer butterflies, which need shelter, water and food.

Shrubs, trees and even grassy meadows offer shelter for adult butterflies and food for caterpillars. Also keep a dish of moist sand around or put some gravel in a birdbath since they cannot drink from open water. Some butterflies will even sip juice from fruit rinds in compost piles.

Butterfly gardener Uneeda Laitenen of Bay St. Louis said some butterflies will eat the fruit right out of your hand.

Potted plants are also fine for butterflies as long as they are plants they like.

Adult butterflies feed only by sipping liquids, both water and nectar, through a straw-like proboscis. Flat, daisy-like flowers and those shaped like tubes are preferred by most butterflies.

Flowers and shrubs proven to attract butterflies include, abelia, beebalm, blackeyed susan, salvias, butterfly bush, coreopsis, cosmos, daisies, gailardia, goldenrod, gomphrena (bachelor buttons), honeysuckle, ironweed, Joe Pye weed, lantana, liatris, lythrum, marigold (singles are best), nasturtium, pentas, periwinkles, phylox, pineapple sage, purple coneflower, Queen Anne's lace, sedums, stokesia, Turk's cap (malvaviscus) verbena, yarrow and zinnia.

Magic hotel construction on the way

BY AMY PICKICH

On-going projects at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis will mean "continuous construction" for now, but it will also mean a bigger and better facility by the fall of 1995, according to casino public relations director Len Giaccone.

Giaccone said foundation construction of the first phase of a hotel with more than 400 rooms could begin in about 3-6 weeks.

Giaccone said the casino is "diligently pursuing projects" for expansion, but waiting on the proper permits.

In December, Bay St. Louis city officials approved general site plans for Casino Magic to include construction of the hotel, golf course and additional parking.

Giaccone said right now a crew is driving test pilings at the site which will be replaced by permanent pilings in the coming weeks. A tentative completion date of fall 1995 has been set for the initial phase and rooms will be added as needed for a total of 16 floors.

The hotel, which will be constructed just east of the casino, will include a banquet room with meeting space to accommodate 600 people, a 6,000 sq. ft. ballroom, and enclosed swimming pool, 400 suites; three concierge service floors with hospitality rooms, a cocktail bar and a retail shop.

Just west of the casino, there are plans for a support complex to house some retail shops.

Giaccone said several plans have been drawn up for the Arnold Palmer Golf Course with Academy, which also has a tentative completion date of fall 1995.

He said the academy will probably begin with an 18-hole course and eventually grow to a 27-hole course once permits are received.

Giaccone said most of the work has been done on the new 700-space parking lot, bringing the total number of parking spaces available at the casino to about 3,000. Right now they are working on curb development at the new lot.

Lott discusses health care reform at HMC

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Some Hancock Medical Center doctors and administrators told U.S. Sen. Trent Lott, R-Miss., Thursday they are awash in redundant paperwork, oppressed by red tape, and constricted by threats of litigation and never-ending governmental inspections.

The comments came as Lott held a session -- on Doctors Appreciation Day -- to lay out his ideas for health care reform and ask for input from the medical community.

Lott said there's a 50-50 chance no health care package will be enacted this year, and he said the original Clinton proposal is all but dead on Capitol Hill.

Lott said some of the "extreme" ideas he opposes in the reform arena would "put the government between the patients and doctors, with far too much control and far too much bureaucracy."

But, he added, advocates of those extreme positions are backing off. In the meantime, he said, the proposals at least have promoted "wholesome ... healthy" discussion of what can be reasonably achieved.

Saying the term "universal health care makes me very nervous," the senator added: "We should all look for a system in American where all have access to affordable health care."

He called for insurance reforms to provide affordable coverage to everyone, including those whose "pre-existing" conditions now make insurance exorbitant, if available at all.

He also said making insurance payments 100 percent deductible would help increase the number of people who can afford coverage, and endorsed the idea creating insurance pools that would offer coverage to self-employed workers.

The senator also stressed a need for medical malpractice reforms to "reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits," and give physicians relief from practicing "defensive medicine."

Lott said a critical need in

Boudin announces garbage pickup routes

Joey Boudin of Boudin's Waste and Recycling announced garbage pickup routes for Hancock County to take effect Friday, April 1.

MONDAY—Areas north of I-10 up to and including Firetower Road (Kiln, Fenton and Jourdan River Shores).

TUESDAY—Areas north of Firetower Road and east of Highway 603 to the Harrison and Pearl River County lines (Standard, Sellers and Necaise).

WEDNESDAY—Areas south of I-10 except Pearlinton (Shoreline Park, Bayside Park, Clermont, Lakeshore and Ansley).

THURSDAY—Pearlington.

FRIDAY—Areas north of Firetower Road and west to Highway 603 to the Pearl River County line (Leetown and White Cypress).

Boudin said all garbage should be at the mailbox by 6:30 a.m. on the day of pickup. He said all garbage must be on the edge of the street, not across any ditches or fences.

In addition all garbage must be tied in plastic garbage bags or in 32 gallon or less garbage cans.

Only household garbage will be accepted. No wood, leaves, tires, branches, grass, metal or other types of trash that can be taken to the county trash dump off CC Road in Standard.

"We are a local business that has been servicing Hancock County for over 31 years. With all of our employees living here and our business operating here I feel that we give a service that is second to none," Boudin said. "I would like to thank the customers that have been so faithful over the years."

recommended.

Laitenen said for a combination garden to attract both hummingbirds and butterflies include plants which attract both, like salvias, the native red honeysuckle, Joe Pye weed, pineapple sage and Turk's cap. For a complete butterfly garden with caterpillars and all, ecological gardening expert Lydia Schultz recommends host plants as well.

Schultz, owner of Lydia's Audubon Shoppe in Waveland has combined her love of birds and gardening to create an ecological garden for butterflies and hummingbirds.

Butterflies are specific as to where they lay their eggs. She said sometimes you can actually see the butterfly eggs being placed to the plant.

Fennel is the main host plant in the state, but other host plants of choice include parsley, legumes, sassafras, spicebush, cabbage, tulip poplar, sunflower, wisteria and any citrus trees, including lemon plants.

The host plants are necessary for the caterpillars to feed on. However, caterpillars do not kill the plants which will grow back.

"So I'll not only get lemons, I'll get butterflies," Schultz said.

The basic necessities for a successful butterfly garden are a sunny location, continually blooming plants, masses of the same color plants, trees and shrubs nearby for shelter at night, host plants to attract egg-laying adults, water in shallow puddles or a birdbath and flat stones where butterflies can bask in the sun.

Schultz recommends a water dish with colorful rocks in it to make it easier in identifying visitors.

For best plant growth, most area garden soils need to have organic matter such as bark, peat, compost, or old leaves worked in.

Laitenen recommends horse manure.

After planting, adding a layer of pine straw, bark or other mulch over the top of the soil will keep it loose and moist and can help control weeds.

Watering during dry spells and adding a little fertilizer from time to time will keep the garden growing. Insecticides are a no-no, and weeds should be pulled by hand.

According to a garden group, butterflies are more than just beautiful delicate creatures which carry pollen from flower to flower. As their caterpillars eat plants, they and the adults become an important source of food for birds and other insects.

Butterflies are also strong symbols as a good number of butterflies show that nature's balance is right.

Take a tour of gardens and see how to attract birds and butterflies to your own yard on Sunday April 16 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. as the Mississippi Coast Audubon Society will present "A Gardening for Birds Tour" in Hancock County.

The tour will include the gardens of Schultz, Laitenen, M.L. Dodson of Waveland and Doris Hope of Diamondhead.

For tickets or information contact any Audubon member or Lydia's Audubon Shoppe.

BREWER'S WORLD

Easter delights

By Jimmie Brewer

Howdy folks, welcome to Sunday morning and Easter. I hope you all woke up to a basket full of goodies delivered by Peter Cottontail himself. Most of all, I hope you woke up happy and healthy and full of love and life.

Not being an expert on religious holidays, and what exactly they mean, I'm not gonna ramble on about Easter. I'll let your clergymen do that today. I do know this much—someone is responsible for all the beautiful flowers, the warm spring sunshine and all the many unique and wonderful people in the world, and that tickles me pink.

Every day to me is a holiday, at least that's what my boss tells me.

Enjoy life today, take some time to appreciate your surroundings, and especially your family, and do not forget to remind your mom that she is the greatest. Oh, how moms love to hear that from their kids.

As we all make our journey through life, we're often fortunate enough to meet people who become friends and who make the world a brighter, happier place to exist in. And, as happens regularly in the work place, as quickly as they appear, they are gone for one reason or another.

This week, we at the Echo said goodbye to not one, but two of the finest, most intelligent and talented folks you will ever meet. They have spread their wings and have taken flight in a brave attempt at expanding their horizons.

Goodbye and good luck to Janet McQueen, our managing editor, and 'Scoop' Pickich, our ace reporter. Thank you both for making work a happier, funner place for me. Thanks to Janet for having faith in me, and encouraging me to write a column. Thanks to Scoop for always managing to get a chuckle from me with her brilliant and incredible impersonations.

Now for an update on golf: I've finally figured out who the culprit is that keeps stealing golf balls that sail into the woods... They're little green people who reside in the tops of pine trees surrounding golf courses.

They stand about two inches tall and subsist on a steady diet of golf balls. As soon as a golf ball hooks or slices into the woods, they run down the tree, grab the ball, and charge back up the tree and hide.

Then just as you arrive at the exact spot where you saw your ball land (only to find it gone), the little green people throw pine cones at you from the tops of pine trees.

On a calm day, if you listen real close you can hear the faintest sound of laughter coming from high above.

O.K., now that the mystery is solved, some praise for local dogooders are in order. The local chapter of the American Cancer Society held its fourth annual successful red "musical fruit" and rice cook-off this past Monday. Like always, it raised a lot of money, had a huge turnout, and the best cooking this side of the Arctic Circle.

Well, that's it friends, thanks for breakfast. Have a nice day and watch out for those little green people.

Happy Easter, Mom. You're the greatest!

Bay budget surplus to fund beach improvements

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Bay St. Louis has enough cash tucked away, and coming in from gaming revenues, to buy into the beach renourishment program, Mayor Eddie Favre says.

And, he said Tuesday, it appears the city will clear some other critical hurdles in time to piggyback the project. "There are no guarantees, but it looks like we will be able to do it," Favre said.

The mayor estimates the city will need $300,000 to $500,000 to add areas between Washington Avenue and the Highway 90 bridge to the county's on-going renourishment contract.

The bulk of that could come from the city's reserves, he said. Plus, "some of our revenues are significantly higher than we anticipated and budgeted" for the year. That under-estimated revenue comes predominately from Casino Magic, he said.

City officials recently began investigating the chances of hooking onto the county's renourishment program, hoping to get a price break by extending the existing contract the county has with T.L. James Co.

Favre said so far he's found nothing but cooperation from all parties involved: the county, the contractor, state and federal officials, and private property owners between the bridge and Bay View Court.

County officials agreed to tack the city's portion of work to the contract -- assuming there's enough sand available in the borrow pit the county is using to renourish the area between Washington and Buccaneer State Park. State and federal officials have indicated a willingness to amend permits to allow the additional work.

Meanwhile, Favre said private property owners between Bay View Court and the Highway 90 bridge have said they're willing to pay for renourishment adjoining their properties.

If the owners don't participate, city officials say they could renourish the beachfront anyway and declare it public property.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It may be an hour later than you think if you failed to move your clock ahead one hour last night or this morning.

Day Light Savings Time began at 2 a.m. this morning.

It would be a good idea to check with other family members, as I have heard of clocks being set by two different people the same night.

The question of a signal light at Highway 90 and Washington Street has been in the news for a dozen or so years.

It seems there is always a reason for one not to be installed. Now that the 'truth' is out, it seems the main reason is because no governmental agency wants to pay for the project.

One does not need to be a traffic engineer to see the hazards at the intersection.

The angle at which the street crosses the highway is a headache to begin with.

It looks like highway officials could have done better planning with the crossing when Highway 90 was constructed, and that was really not too many years ago.

Washington Street has been around for over 100 years and still is an important thoroughfare.

I am hoping we will see a signal light at the Washington Street intersection in the near future, hopefully in months, not in years to come.

The Red Beans and Rice Cook-off, benefitting the Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross, gets bigger and better every year.

It is amazing that red beans can be cooked in so many ways and have so many different tastes.

The selection of the winners in each of the three categories was a very hard job for the volunteer judges.

Congratulations to everyone who participated in the cook-off, as their talents as 'chefs' are greatly appreciated.

Fund raisers, such as the red bean cook-off, provide funds to do cancer research. Cancer kills so many each year, and a cure has to be found. The only way to do this is through research, and that costs money.

Thanks also to the many workers who volunteered their time in helping serve the benefit luncheon.

Art donated by local artists for the silent auction is also greatly appreciated.

This was the fourth year for the fund raiser, and I understand plans are already underway for another one next year.

An Easter Poem — Gone But Not Forgotten

Gone but not forgotten
Nor will He ever be;
The Lord who came to Earth
from Heaven
To save sinners like you and me.
He spent a short time upon the Earth
Yet gave it such a wonderful rebirth.
They nailed Him to a cruel cross,
His life on Earth was never lost.
They bound Him and they laid Him
In a tomb so big and dim;
They rolled a huge stone
against the door,
And left Him to rest
forevermore.
The grave clothes could not hold Him,
Nor could the tomb so dim;
The angels rolled the stone away.
Christ rose in Glory on that day.

He lives in Glory with the Father —
Who gave His Son to save us all.
He'll come again to take us
home,
The one He's preparing now
— recall?
Thank God that He is risen
He said, ere He went away,
"I'll not leave you alone but
Will send you the Comforter to stay."
I too will return for you all
one day,
After I have prepared a place
To receive you "unto myself" for
He has saved you by His wonderful grace.
Thank You, Father, for Your Son who came:
He died for us but rose again.
We long for His return today,
He is not forgotten — though
He's gone away.

Gov. Fordice proclaims April Clean-Up—Paint-Up

Mississippi's beauty is everybody's duty! And once again it is Clean-Up — Paint-Up time.

Governor Kirk Fordice is promoting a statewide clean-up—paint-up drive during the entire month of April.

The measure of benefit to each Mississippian will be in direct relation to his or her effort.

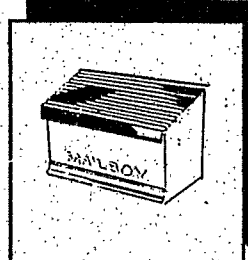

Litter is a deterrent to beauty, lowers property values, drives away potential shoppers, and discourages tourism. In addition, it is a definite health hazard.

The Mississippi State Board of Health has repeatedly warned of a possible outbreak of encephalitis, a disease carried by the mosquito. By cleaning up old cans, bottles, junk tires, and other litter affording breeding places for the mosquito, it will materially help in control of the dreaded disease.

Many homes, places of business, and communities are already attractive, but in some areas the reverse is true. Concentration in those areas of blight will add much to the overall appearance of Mississippi.

Whether we like it or not, we as a people are judged by the appearance of our surroundings. Our highways, streets, and roads are our living rooms to tourists.

Discourage litter-bugs! Plant trees, shrubs and flowers in attractive landscape designs. See that adequate trash containers are provided in all public areas, parks, etc. Carry a litter bag in your car, truck or boat, and use it. Do your part to help keep Mississippi beautiful.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bay firefighters respond professionally

Dear Editor,
On Saturday, March 26 around 10:30 p.m. we had a malfunction in our fire alarm. As a result the central monitoring system notified the Bay St. Louis Fire Department.

Three firefighters, real gentlemen, came out. They checked our home, attic, etc. and determined the alarm was the problem — no fire.

We had our nine-year-old grandson at the house, and after the alarm sounded several times he was not only tired from a long day, but close to panic.

These men (unfortunately I did not get their names) sat down and "man to man" discussed the situation with him and made him comfortable and relaxed.

These men were not only trained professional firefighters, but real people.

Legislators depleted surplus in a spending frenzy

Dear Editor,
Did you hear him . . . Mr. Diaz, a member of the Mississippi Legislature from the Coast said, "It's not our job to save money, but to spend all available on programs people want."

So, there went the $300 million surplus and then some. They spent so much, new taxes may be needed to cover the excess.

Since this frenzied spending seems to give our Legislators so much joy, and since they'll no doubt continue on this course, there's only one thing to do: send others to Jackson next election.

First, we should join Gov. Fordice and try to teach business economics to these clowns. I can't ever recall anyone running for election stating, "This job calls for spending every tax dollar we can raise." That's asinine! But that's what they're doing.

If a trillion dollars were collected by the State Treasurer, there'd always be unions, schools, police and others wanting a hand-out; there'd always be infrastructure which might be improved; there'd always be a pressing need for new prisons, etc.

Spending money is easy, whether for your family or for

The 1994 legislative session has been extended 30 days on paper due to the Governor's veto of select appropriation bills.

Thursday morning, Governor Fordice vetoed Senate Bill 3263 which included a 23% increase over the 1994 general budgets at our state university and colleges. The additional monies were intended to restore cuts in budgeting from prior years.

The veto was interpreted as a test of the will of the Legislature to reconsider its spending of surplus monies or override the veto and maintain previously approved revenues.

The Governor indicated in his veto message that he intended to veto other appropriation bills awaiting his action due to consistently exceeding legislative budget recommendations. Thus, by a vote of 24-28 the Senate sustained the veto and is revising the bill.

Due to the uncertainty of all appropriation bills sent to the Governor, the Legislature will not end the regular 90-day session but continue working. The extension of the session has shortened the number of days the Governor has to act on bills sent to him since Tuesday, March 29.

Bills that now fall into the five-day action category include: reduction of car tags; increase of the minimum driving age; school prayer; double penalties for "hate crimes;" teacher pay raise; road and bridge repair; school violence measure; and numerous appropriation and bond bills.

Car tags could be reduced as soon as January 1995 if the Governor approves the bill sent to him by the Legislature. The bills set aside $24 million to be combined with a two percent increase of sales taxes collected on car purchases to offset revenues lost by local governments when tag prices are lowered.

Actual dollars saved by drivers is calculated according to the type of car and the tax level of each city or county.

Legislators voted in favor of a conference report for a bill designed to enhance economic development throughout the state. House Bill 1673 provides for Mississippi's 27 state parks to be repaired and improved by issuing general obligation bonds for work on infrastructure.

Education has remained a hotly debated topic throughout the session. The Legislature has reacted to the needs of both students and teachers by approving pay raises and creating a "safer" environment for learning.

The average increase of pay for teachers with one or more years of experience would be $1,848. All teachers would be paid a salary commensurate with their highest level of certification. This bill is awaiting action.

Several bills passed during the session promote a school violence plan. A student bringing a firearm to school would be charged as a felon. Youth courts could require student-offenders to maintain a certain grade point average and be monitored by counselors. Parents would be more responsible for acts committed by their children and could incur fines or other charges.

Both the Senate and House voted favorably for a legislative pay raise on Tuesday. Under the current pay level, a legislator receives about $17,200 per year. The proposed salary level would be increased to $24,840. The Senate voted 29-22 on a voice vote to approve the raises.

I was in the House of Representatives Chamber working on House Bill 795 which regulates garbage fees when the final vote was taken. Thus, I was recorded on the morning roll call as a yes vote. Nevertheless, had I been physically present for the final vote I would have voted no. I am certainly not in favor of a 50 percent pay raise.

government. But learning to budget takes self-control and wise decisions on what to do first, and where to draw the line.

This legislature missed an opportunity to help all citizens of Mississippi have a better life in the future.

They sold out to pressure groups and spent the entire $300 million surplus . . . and then some. Let's elect responsible people.

Magic puncher

Former four-time middleweight boxing champion Roberto Duran celebrates following a fourth round TKO of Terry Thomas, Tuesday night at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis. Duran improved his record to 93-3, and 64 KOs in the fight televised nationally over the USA Network. has also helped parking problems at the casino. Bay St. Louis city officials were concerned with problems earlier this year because of the lack of parking at the casino in relation to the size of the facility. Transportation director David Spinks said the new valet department, which began January 21, has been very successful, with zero complaints.

According to Spinks the 260-space lot, which he said can expand as the casino grows, on average houses 2,000 to 3,000 cars per day.

"Our valet is working out great," said Giaccone. "We only wish we'd had it sooner."

Spinks said what makes the valet service at Casino Magic stand out is the individual dispatch and check out departments which are radio controlled for faster service. Hostesses are also on hand to greet those who valet.

Spinks also oversees the RV park and bus charters. He said the 150-lot RV park is usually full with 40-50 bus charters arriving weekly from New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Atlanta and Houston.

Mary Blanchard, a member of the casino group sales team said right now the bus charters require at least a 5-hour stay, with most staying for a day-long visit.

Blanchard said some do stay for more than a day, but the lack of hotel space limits the longer stay. She expects more people staying longer once the casino hotel is built.

Giaccone said the casino has about 15 charter flights arriving at Stennis International Airport each week, averaging 100-130 passengers per flight. And if the casino isn't busy enough with expansion in Bay St. Louis, the corporate office is working on dockside gaming development in other areas as well. Len Crick, senior vice-president of development, said Casino Magic is working on a joint venture with Caesar's World to establish a Caesar's Magic Casino in St. Louis, Missouri.

Crick said the $210 million project is in the final negotiation stages and could be up-and-running by the summer of 1995 if a license is obtained by this fall.

Dalton to address conference

Susan Dalton of Waveland will present a workshop April 9-10 in Atlanta at Breakthrough, a national spiritual conference.

Dalton, a certified Reiki (ancient Japanese relaxation technique) practitioner and instructor, will discuss "Miracle Master" principles.

"Miracle Master" is a prayer process which teaches how to ask God's assistance in having miracles occur in one's life on a regular basis.

Approximately 1,000 people are expected at the conference, which will be sponsored by minister and author Dr. Barbara King of Hillside Chapel and Truth Center of Atlanta.

Lott said he wants to improve health care in rural areas. His ideas include giving doctors total tax deductions for building clinics in rural areas, and encouraging nurse practitioners and midwives to locate in underserved areas.

When he asked for comments, he got plenty.

The medical center's lab director complained that at least three of the 17 personnel in the laboratory are involved with paperwork on a fulltime basis.

Dr. J.D. Rutherford said although past administrations have promised to promote paperwork reduction reforms "The only thing I see is another paper to fill out. There must be an easier way... than creating tons of paper."

Lott said almost every health care reform bill has language concerning paperwork simplification. But, he said that's an "easy thing to say but very hard to achieve" due to resistance from bureaucrats.

"The only way is to get government out of as much as possible, and cut the number of government employees as much as possible ... Unfortunately, when you're dealing with the federal government, it doesn't work that way," the senator said.

Lott added: "There's a great danger we are going to make it a lot worse," with health care alliances and new levels of government regulation.

One physician complained that the bureaucratic demands from the Medicare and Medicaid system, compounded by non-cooperative insurance companies, have increased his overhead expenses to more than 60 percent.

"I'm being put out of work by paperwork," he said, adding he and other physicians are concluding that insurance companies and lawsuit-hungry lawyers have "won."

Lott's own health care reform bill includes a provision in which plaintiffs found to have filed frivolous medical malpractice suits would have to pay defendants' attorney fees and court costs.

Lott said it's highly important that the medical community keep in touch with legislators as the debate wears on.

Financial Services Corp. affiliates with NCRB

Basil Kennedy, president of Financial Services Corporation, announces his company's association with the National Center for Retirement Benefits (NCRB).

The National Center for Retirement Benefits, Inc. is the leading consulting firm in the United States specializing in representing employees who will receive, or have received, a distribution from a retirement plan.

They were the first company in the nation to be exclusively devoted to carefully reviewing employee plan participation for accuracy and correctness in an effort to obtain the proper payout for the employee.

The company will review, analyze and if appropriate, audit the employees participation to determine if the employee has received, or will receive, the maximum possible payout. The program applies to all forms of distributions and for lump-sum as well as installment or lifetime income distributions.

The fee for this service is based on the additional money generated by the service and is solely determined on a contingent basis. This means the employee only pays a fee if NCRB is successful in finding additional money for them.

Members of the Blue Jeans Garden Club met Thursday, March 24 at the Waveland Avenue home of hostess Alice Brechtel. Co-hostess for the group's monthly meeting and social was Virginia Thomas.

The meeting was opened with the reading of the prayer, "My Thanks."

President Phil Lagasse and members extended an enthusiastic "welcome back" to Blue Jeans treasurer Lucille Witter, who had been absent from the February meeting due to illness.

Minutes of the February meeting were read by secretary Claire Conway. The treasurer's report was accepted by Jennie Ortis, Virginia Thomas and Molly Molpus.

As has been the practice for a number of years, the Blue Jeans voted unanimously to participate in the Special Olympics at Stennis Space Center by sponsoring six athletes.

Annual Hat Show and Blue Jeans birthday luncheon chairman Beverly Coogan reminded the ladies it was time to decide on a place for the event. She will present further information at the April meeting.

Potted plants and arrangements of attending members were submitted for judging by members. Winners in the various categories were: cultivated, Betty Klein; horticulture, Phil Lagasse; miniature, Beulah Peters; potted, Jennie Ortis; and wild, Mayola Rotherham.

Half and half winner was Claire Conway, and the door prize was won by Beulah Peterson.

The April meeting will be at the home of Molly Molpus in Diamondhead.

"The Good Life" will be portrayed in flowers, foliage and special exhibits at the Pass Christian Garden Club's annual spring flower show Thursday, April 21 at the Hancock Bank Civic Center at the corner of Davis Avenue and Scenic Drive.

The public is invited to visit from 1-4 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

The monthly birthday party, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 for residents of the Hotel Reed Nursing Center, was March 24.

Sandy Breland, director of activity, decorated the dining room in preparation for the Easter holiday. Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano, and Roslyn Weathers led the singing. Elaine Roberts handed the celebrants their gifts and helped serve refreshments.

The monthly birthday party for residents of the Woodland Nursing Center, sponsored by the auxiliary, was March 29.

Jim Head, director of activity, had the rec' decorated in the Easter theme, and the residents enjoyed the music of Lena Mae Oustalet at the piano and Roslyn Weathers' singing. Elaine Roberts helped serve refreshments.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

WAVELAND
TOPS MS 233 Waveland met Tuesday, March 29 at the Waveland Public Library. Rhonda was the week's best loser with 5 pounds.

Janet was the Top KOP loser. The club welcomed Margaret back. Tammy received a charm for losing 20 pounds. Jenny presented a program. Each member was given hints to use each day. The t-shirts were decided on for SRD. Members were asked to help with the t-shirts Tuesday at 3 p.m.

TOPS MS 233 meets every Tuesday at the Waveland Public Library. Weigh-ins are from 5:30-6 p.m. with the meeting immediately following weigh-in.

Anyone interested in losing weight the sensible way and maintaining that weight loss is welcome to visit the TOPS chapter. Interested persons are invited to call Debbie at 467-0784 for more information.

Corbell to represent state at conference

Zach Corbell, a senior and honor student at Bay High School, will be the Mississippi delegate to the 1994 YMCA Blue Ridge Values Conference.

The conference will be in August in North Carolina. Corbell and four other YMCA officers travelled to Nashville, Tenn. in December to plan the agenda for the event.

The conference is a Christian values and leadership development program where some 500 students will spend seven days attending workshops. Information learned will be disseminated back into their respective communities.

Corbell is the son of Pat and Van Cullifer of Waveland and the grandson of Mabel Brown of Waveland and Joyce Krilling of Amarillo, Tex.

For additional information on the conference, call the YMCA in Jackson at (601) 948-3090.

HAPPY SUMMER.

From The Inventors Of Less Pool Work And More Pool Fun

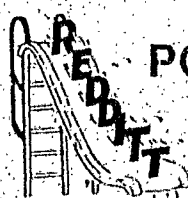

It's been over a decade since we introduced chlorine-free BAQUACIL. And it's been effectively sanitizing and making pools sparkling clear the world over ever since. And proving that there's more to a pool than work.

BAQUACIL's easy to use - just pour it in. More stable than chlorine - test just once a week. Longer lasting - so you add it just once every 10 to 14 days.

And because of its proven biguanide chemistry, there's no odor, no eye or skin irritation, no faded hair or swimsuits. No hassles, period. Maybe that's why 93% of all BAQUACIL families say they're happy they switched.

BAQUACIL is the original chlorine-free system of pool water treatment. No other system offers more. And no dealer knows more about it than your Authorized BAQUACIL pool professional.

Accept no substitutes. Stop by the dealer near you and learn more about the chlorine-free chemistry that's been proven in all types of pools for over a decade. Trust the original. Trust BAQUACIL. And have a happy summer.

Second Saturday

Downtown galleries continue evening openings next weekend

BY JANET MCQUEEN
The April 9 Second Saturday program will feature entertainment by David Stockstill on a Checking concert grand piano at Nadic Arts, 111 Main Street. Five Old Town Bay Saint Louis galleries will participate, including Serenity, M. Schon-Erickson and Mississippi galleries, Village Emporium and Nadic Arts.

The event is patterned after the Julia Street/New Orleans' First Saturday openings, which feature the works of 12 galleries each month.

The public is invited from 6 until 8 p.m. to meet the artists and enjoy an evening of great art, good wine and music.

—The Mississippi Gallery, Tony Eccles presents moody works on the theme of cars, including 'found-object' sculptures.

—Serenity Gallery will feature the prismacolors of Gautier artist and author Steve Shepard. The series is entitled Life on the Gulf Coast. Shepard, author of Elvis Hornbill, International Business Bird, recently completed the Gulf of Mexico Triptych, his largest prismacolor drawing to date. It combines pristine landscapes with environmental messages and Shepard's enigmatic visual equations.

—Village Emporium hosts the bright new paintings of Abilene, Texas native Gina Miller. Miller is a second year art student at William Carey College, and is a member of the Singing River Arts Association. Her paintings feature vibrant colors in oils, acrylics and watercolors.

—M. Schon-Erickson Gallery presents nineteenth and early twentieth century paintings and prints, as well as African and ethnographic art.

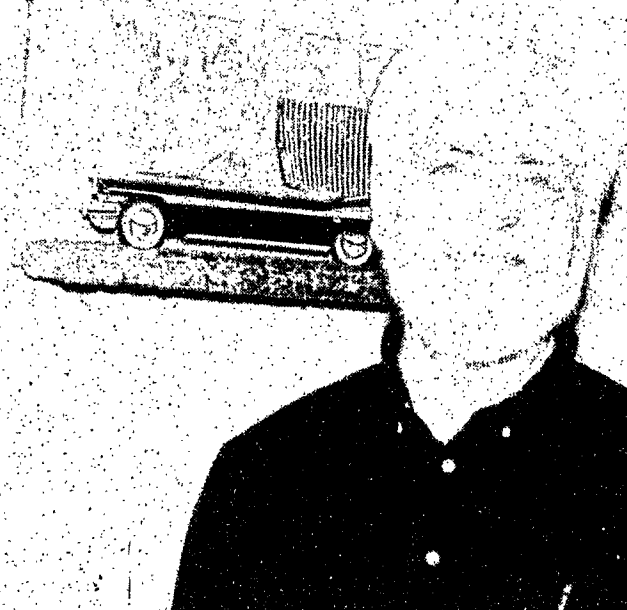

—Nadic Arts owner Nadine Stamm will feature acrylics and watercolor paintings depicting shorebirds and marine scenes of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

ARTIN' ABOUT

Bay Area Chorale hosts Jefferson Performing Arts

A German Requiem

The Bay Area Chorale hosts the Jefferson Performing Arts Symphony Chorus in a performance of A German Requiem by Johannes Brahms on Sunday, April 10 at 3 p.m. at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Tickets may be purchased in advance, or at the door for $6 adults; $3 students. For information, call 466-2875.

Dearly Departed

The Walter Anderson Players will present the Southern comedy, "Dearly Departed" April 8 and 9 at 8 p.m.

All performances of the play will be at the Ocean Springs Community Center located at the Walter Anderson Museum of Art in downtown Ocean Springs.

Dearly Departed opened at the Second Stage Theatre in New York on Dec. 3, 1991. This new play is a comedy of family matters set in a small Southern town.

PRC one-acts

Pearl River Community College's Drama Department will present three evenings of one-act comedies Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 7-9 in Moody Hall Auditorium on the PRCC campus in Poplarville. Performances will be at 7:30 p.m. each night.

PRCC students will perform two acts from Neil Simon's Plaza Suite, and James Pridemore's Lemonade.

Among student cast members is George Becker of Bay St. Louis.

Songy reception

Diamondhead Yacht will host a reception for artist Bob Songy to open his one-man show A Change of Heart, in poetic freedom Sunday, March 20 at 2:23 p.m.

Youth concerts

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra has increased its Youth Concerts to four this year. They will be at the Biloxi Saenger Theatre on Friday, April 15 at 9:15 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 12:30 p.m. and 1:45 p.m.

Under the baton of Andrew H. Harper, conductor and musical director, the orchestra will play selections from Aladdin, Cream Puff Polka, The Sound of Music and Yankee Doodle. Andy, which is a set of variations on a well-known tune—one of the lighthearted variations is an extended piano cadenza performed by Mississippi native Jerry Alan Bush.

Miss Flanda Switzer, 16, of Ocean Springs will be the guest vocalist singing Climb Every Mountain.

The first two concerts are sold out, but there are openings for the concerts at 12:30 p.m. and 1:45 p.m. Admission is $1.

For more information contact Thomas J. Rhodeman at 374-3280.

Wildfowl festival

Coast artists should get entries ready to compete in the Louisiana Wildfowl Carvers and Collectors Guild 20th annual festival and arts competition August 13-14 at the Health and Physical Education Building at the University of New Orleans.

The guild, a non-profit organization, is composed of individuals who are interested in carving, collecting, painting and photographing wildfowl. Its purpose is to preserve the folk art, associated with waterfowl.

The primary emphasis of the festival is 'decou carving', but has broadened to include photography, painting, pyrographic art, fish carving, miniature boats and a miscellaneous carving category.

In 1993, the competition had over 100 photographic entries and 159 carvers from around the country. Coast artists who have won in previous years include Nadine Stamm, Lois Griffin, Dan Herbold and Dr. William Clement.

For more information and contest rules call LWCCG president Bo Wolf at (504) 242-0578, another committee member or write the guild at P.O. Box 10883, New Orleans, La., 70181.

Exhibits.

The Hillyer House in Pass Christian announced exhibits for April including, "Sailing" watercolors by Barbara Quigley of the Coast; Coast sealife designs in pastel glaze pottery by Matt Brabham of Florida; brilliant color glass beads and mixed metal copper and brass sea-charm necklaces by Carrie Gicker of California; and hand-blown glass oil candles in vivid colors by Steve Beasley of Washington.

Upcoming events and demonstrations scheduled for April include:

—April 6-Florida potter and sculptor Matt Brabham will create designs in clay from 11-2.

—April 23-David Haddock will demonstrate sand casting of shells and sealife from 11-2.

A full collection of both artists works will be displayed and for sale on that day.

More than 100 artists are represented at the gallery and gift shop, located at 207 East Scenic Dr. in Pass Christian.

They are open 10-5 Monday through Saturday and 12-5 on Sunday. Call 452-4810 for details.

Acting classes

Ramsay King is conducting film acting classes on an ongoing basis for both adults and children ages 10-17 at the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council Gallery located at 2511 13th Street in Gulfport.

Technique, scene study and acting in front of the camera are emphasized in the classes.

The next classes begin March 31 and April 9 and meet once a week. Tuition is $40 a month.

For details and registration call King at 864-5193 or the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council at 864-4000.

BSLLT memberships

Memberships are available to the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, with several sponsorship levels.

For additional information, call Beth Benvenuti, membership chairman, 467-1402.

DeMarco named UM student editor

Anna DeMarco

Anna DeMarco of Kiln was recently selected to serve as editor of The Daily Mississippian at The University of Mississippi. The Mississippian is the only daily student-run college newspaper in the state. The selection process included a written editing test and an interview with a panel of judges from the student body, faculty and other journalism professionals.

DeMarco is the daughter of Mary Haas Cerisier of Kiln and a graduate of Our Lady Academy.

Fairhaven Private Mental Health Clinic opens in Bay

Fairhaven Private Mental Health Clinic, a medical group practice in Biloxi, will open a satellite office April 4 at 838 Highway 90, Suite 1 in Bay St. Louis.

"We're excited about the opportunity to provide services to the Bay St. Louis and surrounding communities," said James Wasserman, MD, FAPA, board certified psychiatrist and co-owner of Fairhaven. "We emphasize compassion, understanding and confidentiality. We offer individual, marital/family and group therapy services, but we also provide educational services because we feel part of our purpose is to help others learn how they can help themselves."

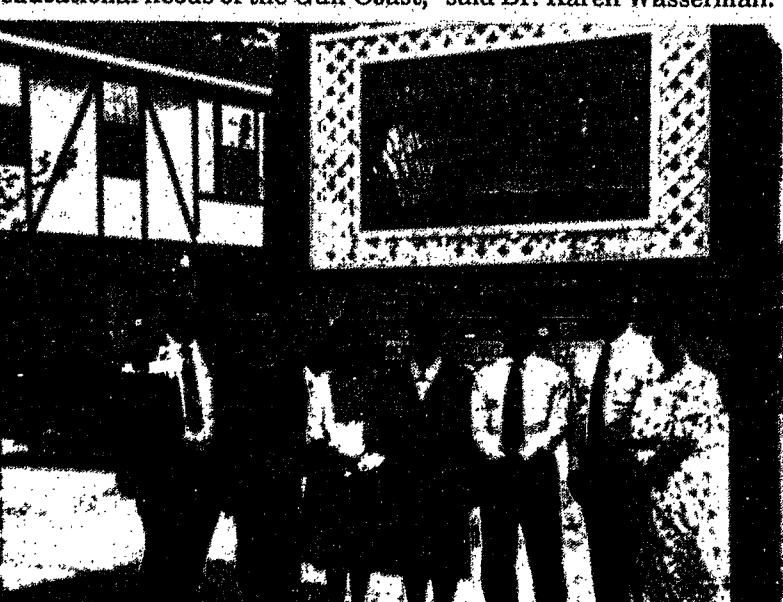

Said Karen Wasserman, PsyD, RN, clinical psychologist and co-owner, "We also know people are looking for practical solutions in their relationships and working life. We address these issues through stress management, step-parenting skills development, women's and men's issues, and interpersonal skills development for adolescents. Our workshops and presentations focus on education as well as treatment."

Fairhaven, founded six years ago, now includes four full-time professional staff members: owners Drs. James and Karen Wasserman; Michael Palmero, MS, LPC, CCMHC; Licensed Professional Counselor; and Richard Olivar, LCSW, Licensed Clinical Social worker. The clinic administrator is Nicole Wasserman, MBA, MHS.

Services offered include psychiatry, psychology and counseling services.

The new office will be located in the Whole Family Healthcare Clinic building. Appointments are now available for individual counseling, stress management groups or workshops. For more information call 388-4280.

"We look forward to being better able to meet the counseling and educational needs of the Gulf Coast," said Dr. Karen Wasserman.

Tips On Writing EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

- STICK TO THE FACTS
Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.
- BE HONEST
Aid from being unethical, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers won't help you make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyer's trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.
- SPELL IT OUT
Abbreviations are not easily understood by many people and they even confuse a reader. It only takes them a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?
- THE BOTTOM LINE
State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.
- BE THERE
List the best time to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't, list a specific time, you could be "flooded" with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't call back.
- ASK US
If you aren't sure how to word your ad or what features to include, why not ask us? Our professionals on staff know how to create an effective ad that sells, they're always willing to help, and there's no charge!

He Has Set Us Free

We should fear only if the Lord were not in control.
We should worry only if the Lord were not able to meet our needs.
We should strive only if the Lord were not our shepherd.
We should doubt only if the Lord were not faithful.
We should grieve only if the Lord were not risen.

Hallelujah!
His life and His love have set us free.
